

The Iman Came to School

As part of our promoting SMSC and Religious Education we see the role of fundamental British values parallel to our school ethos and belief.

We invited our local Iman to school to help us learn about our neighbours and the Muslim Religion. This is in-line with recommendations for the teaching of British Values and our own teaching of Catholic Education in ensuring our children have a sound understanding of tolerance and harmony between different cultural traditions and an appreciation of and respect for their own and other cultures;

Part of our religious education is fundamental to all of us having an understanding that the freedom to choose and hold other faiths and beliefs is protected in law and an acceptance that other people having different faiths or beliefs to oneself (or having none) should be accepted and tolerated'

The visit was an amazing experience where children and adults alike were able to ask questions and really for the first time understand another religion.
